Katy Chalk – The History Sphere

Katy Chalk is an author but has only written one book. The book she has written is called 'The History Sphere.' The History Sphere is about a girl called Olivia and her friends. Olivia and her friends have to collect discs from five different moments in time. She is hoping to write another book and has already made a start.

A copy of her book 'The History Sphere' will be in the school library.

Dan Abnett - Author of books and comics

Dan Abnett is a prolific writer and has written over 50 books for more than 20 years. He spends his time writing novels including Doctor Who, Aqua Man and Guardians of the Galaxy to name a few. Every time he writes, he asks his wife to proof read his work and constantly re-reads through to up-level (we wonder if he has a purple pen?). When asked how often he reads, he replied "I read more than I write, as I believe you have to take in and digest words to be able to spout them out again." Below is a comic strip inspired by Dan.

Joke Box

This is the sixth book I've written, which isn't bad for a guy who's only read two.

I just got out of the hospital. I was in a speed reading contest. I hit a bookmark
